Green Packet, Hunan Telecom in wireless pact

KUALA LUMPUR: Green Packet Bhd, through its wholly-owned subsidiary Green Packet Shanghai Ltd, has signed a partnership agreement with Hunan Telecom Co Ltd to promote “wireless e-communication” in China’s Hunan province.

Hunan Telecom will leverage on Green Packet’s unified mobility solution, which is hosted by its SONaccess Home Agent Servers and Foreign Agent Servers, to integrate the Personal Handyphone System wireless data and wireless local area networks for the deployment of broadband wireless networks throughout the province.

Hunan Telecom is one of the largest telecommunications giants in China.

Green Packet group managing director Puan Chan Cheong said in a statement the collaboration further established the company’s footprint in China.

“With five provinces in the world’s most populous nation deploying our products to-date, we believe the adoption and user base of our products is set to scale further.

“We are confident that our solutions will attract more attention from other provinces and telecommunications carriers,” he added.

Green Packet has collaborative agreements with notebook computer manufacturers to launch a notebook bundling programme to further promote the subscription of wireless broadband adoption for Hunan Telecom. – Bernama
